Log in to Bronson SAN

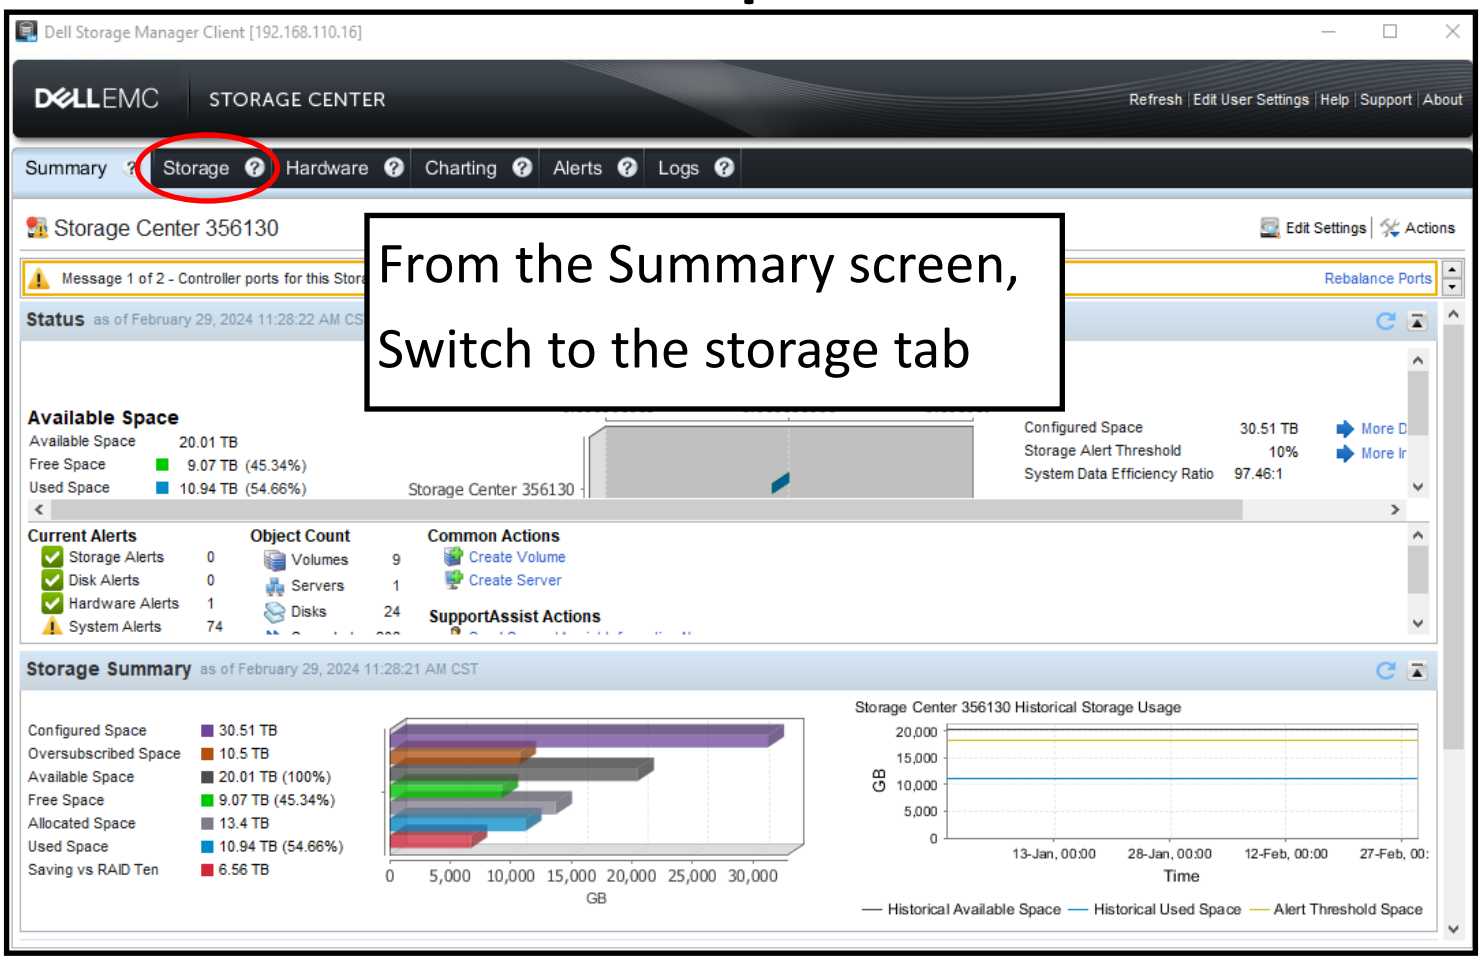

Use Dell Storage Manager Client to log in to the Storage Center

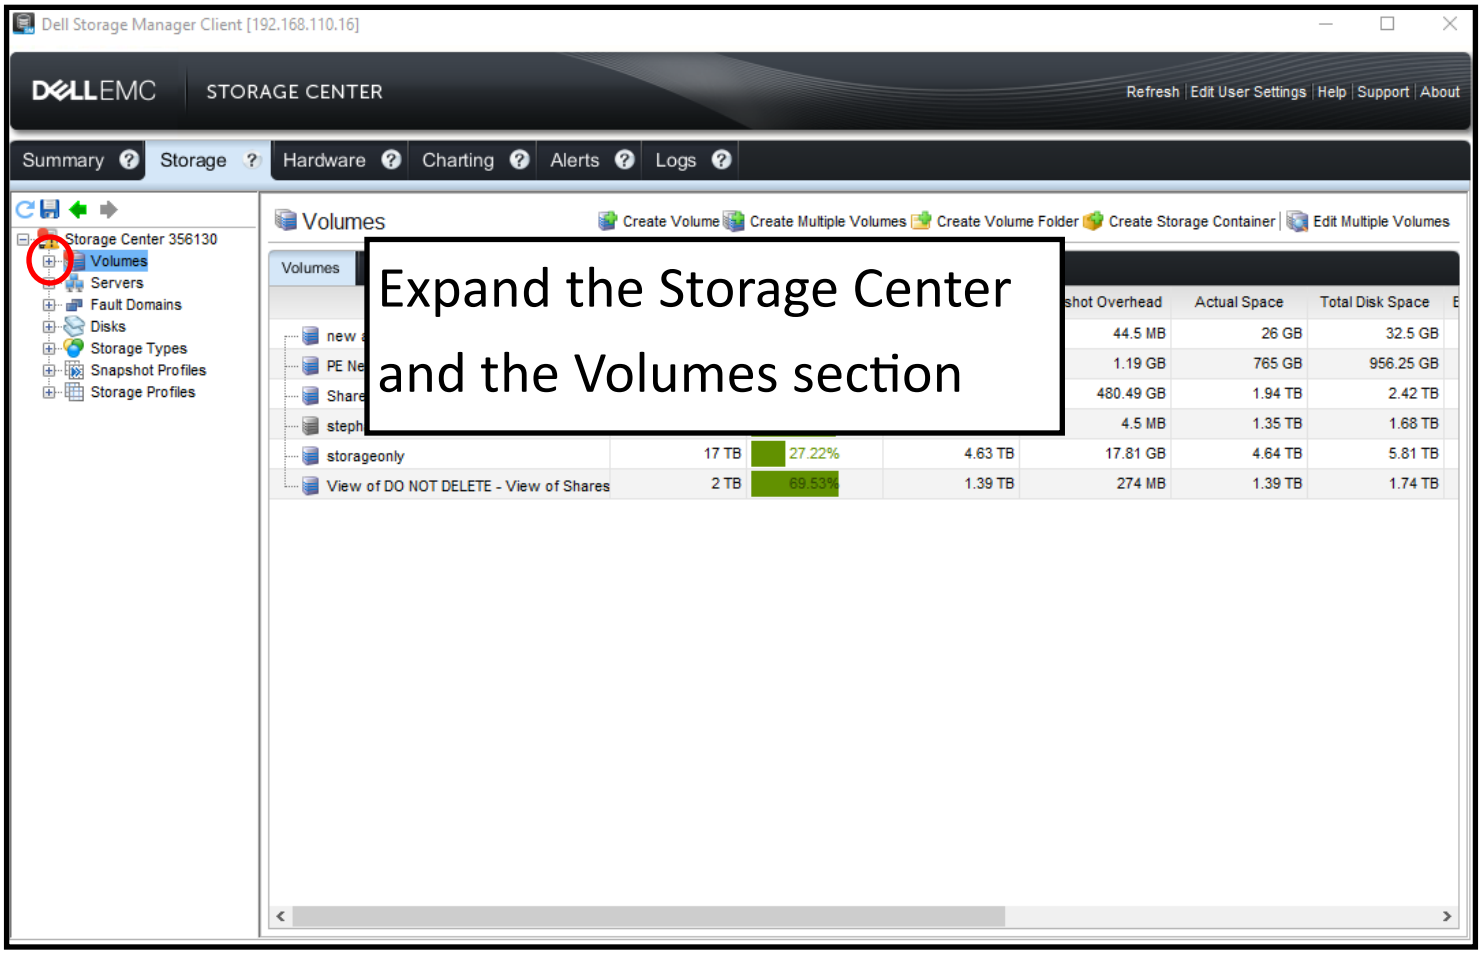

Find the login info in the credential sheet

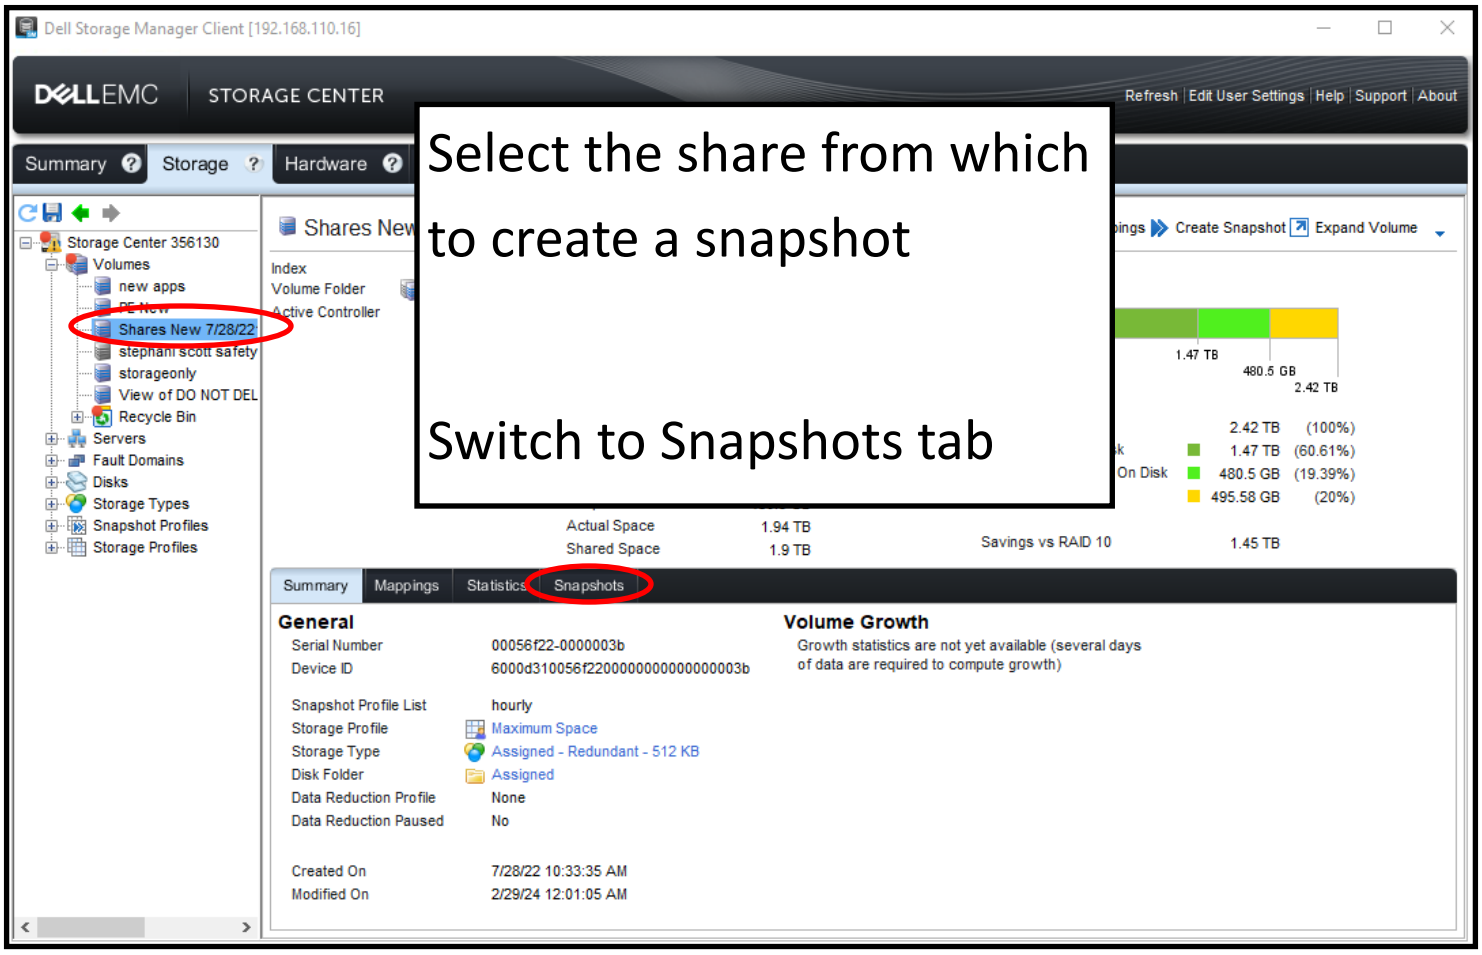

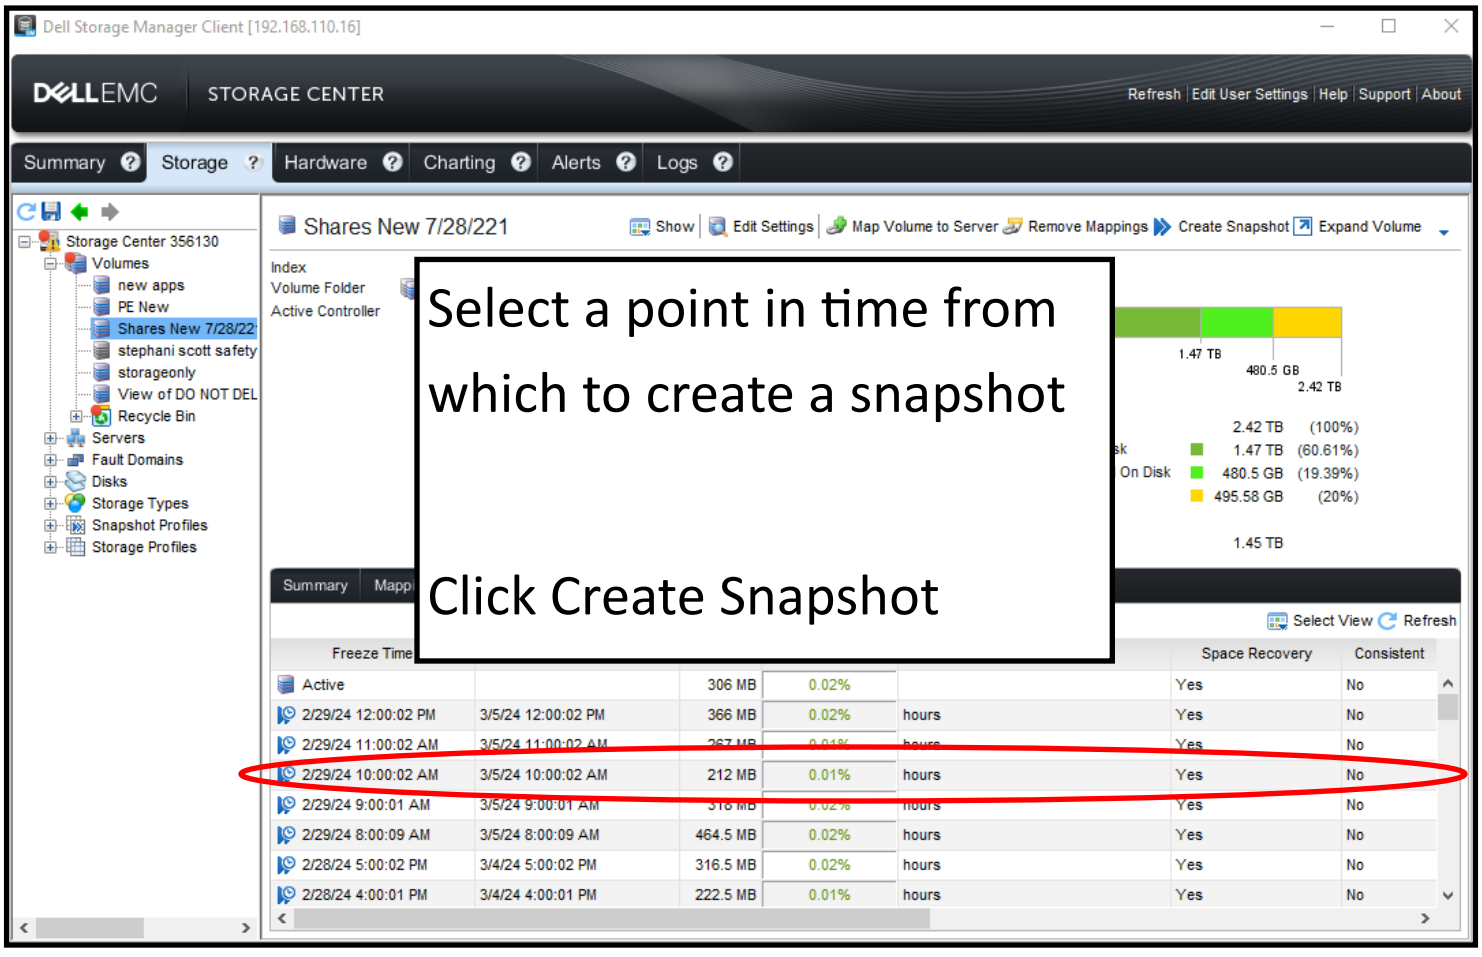

Create Snaphot share

Create Snaphot share

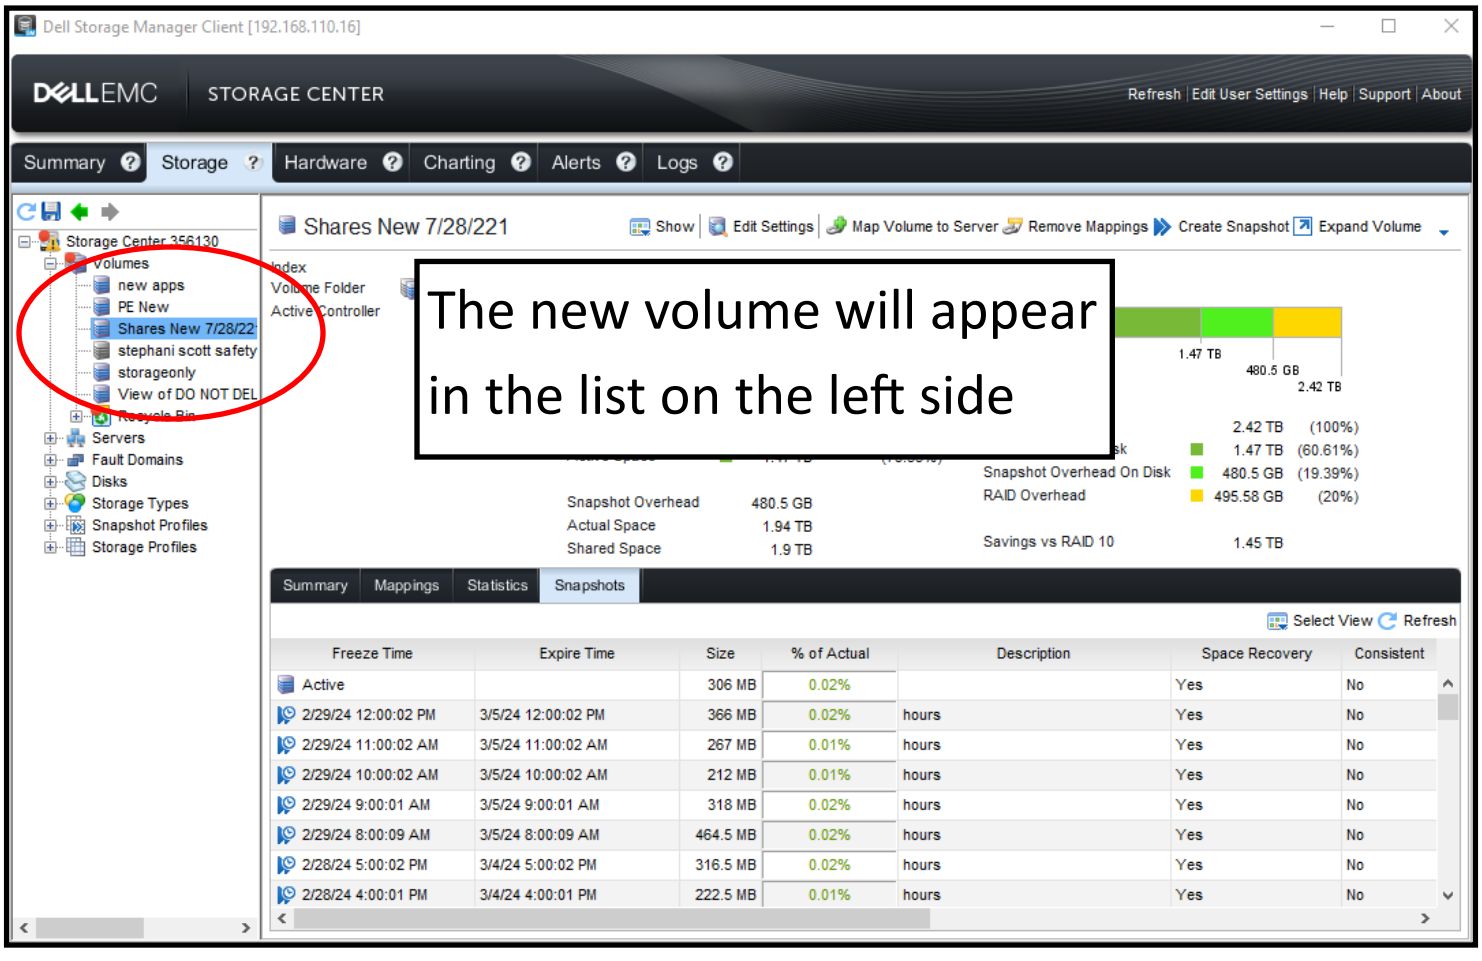

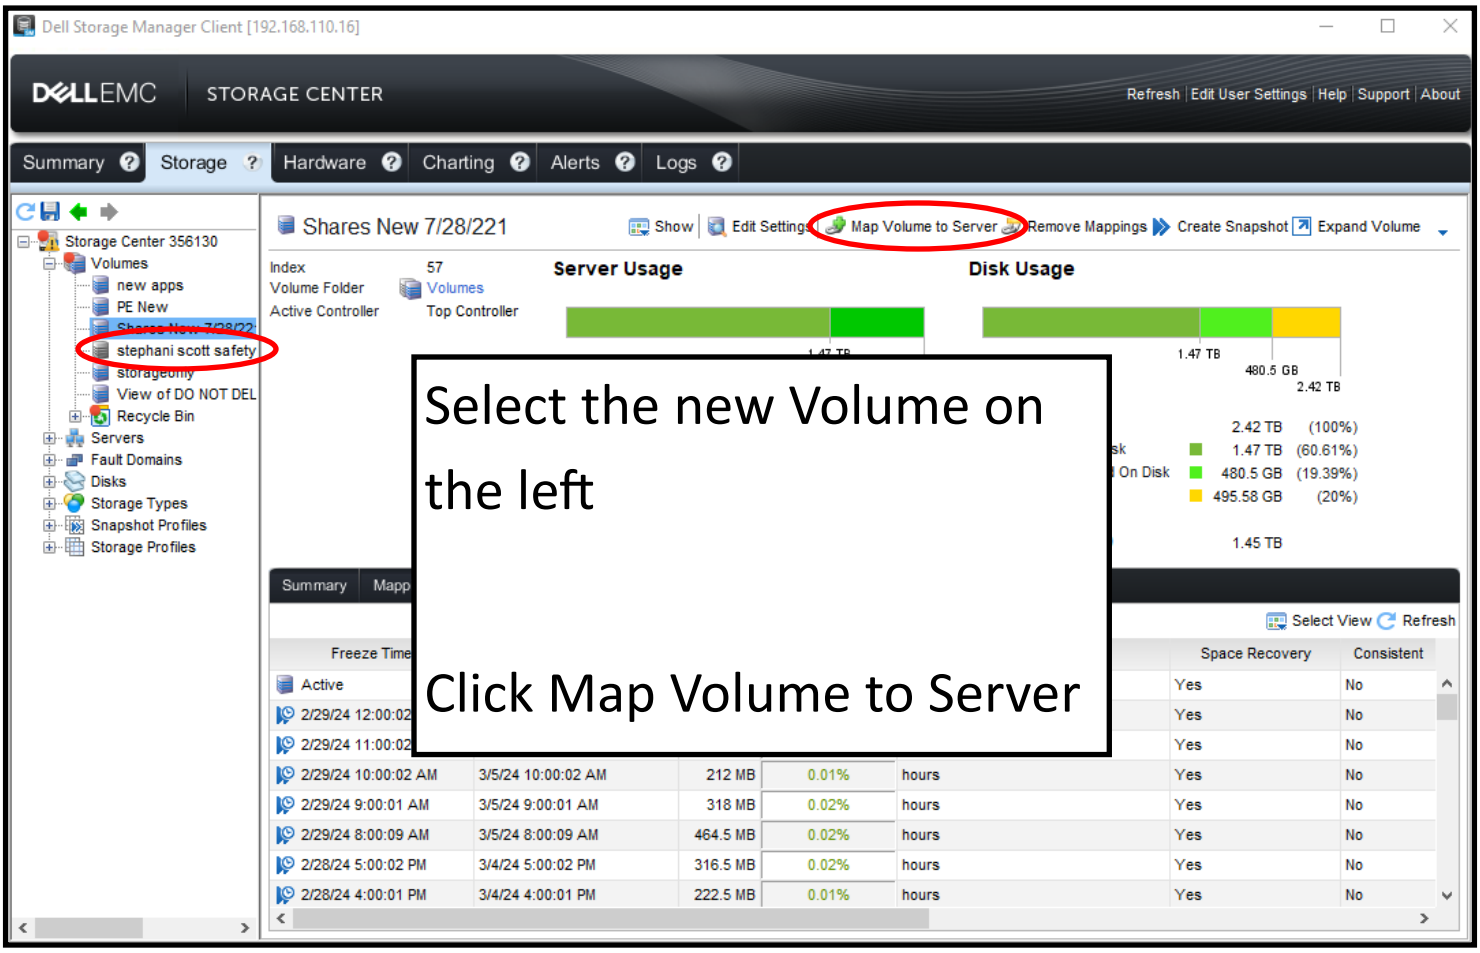

Create Snaphot share

Confirm through the Create Volume screens

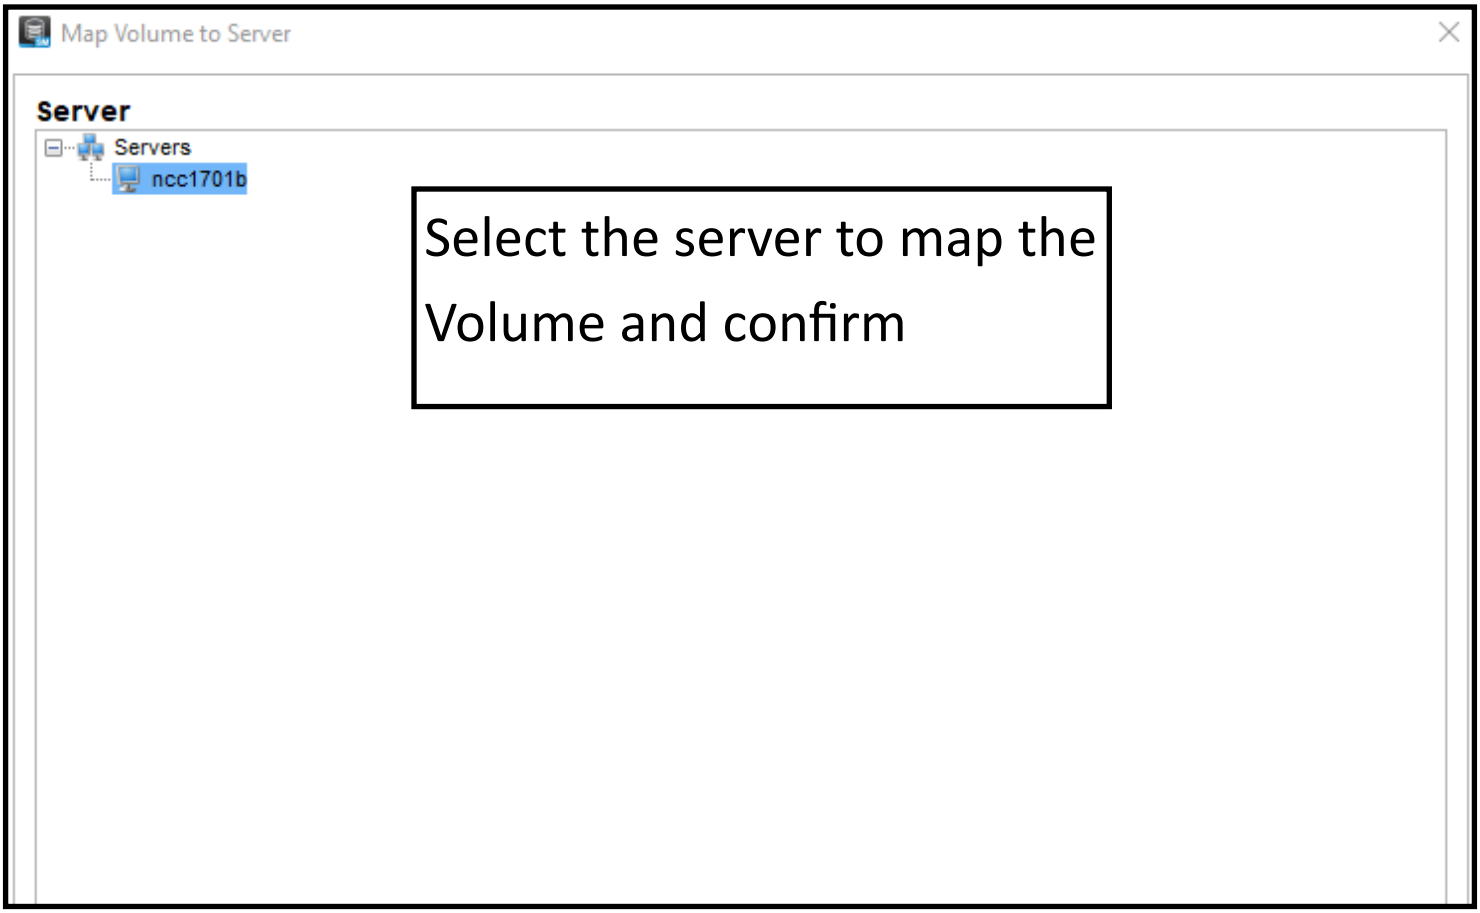

Map Snapshot to Server

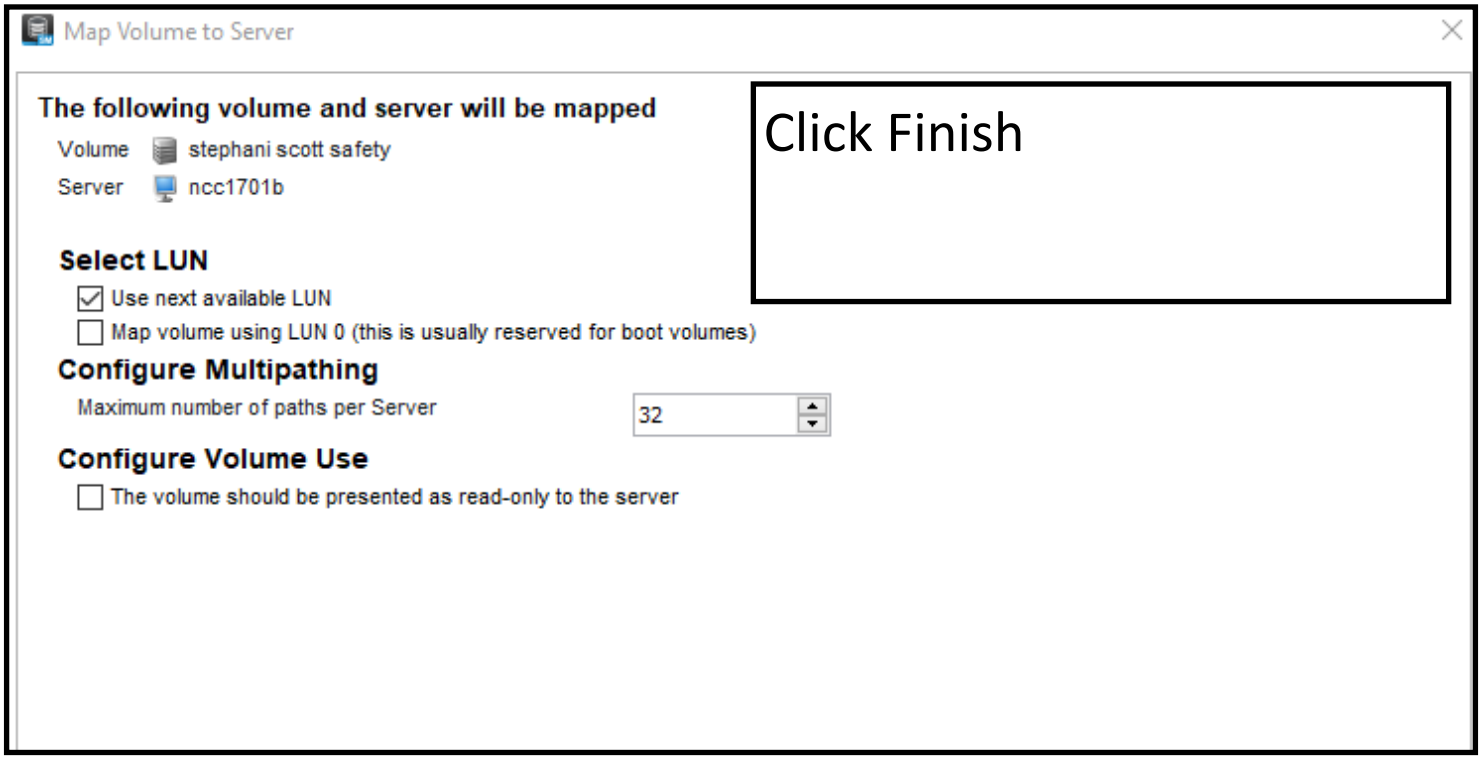

Select the new Volume on the left

Click Map Volume to Server

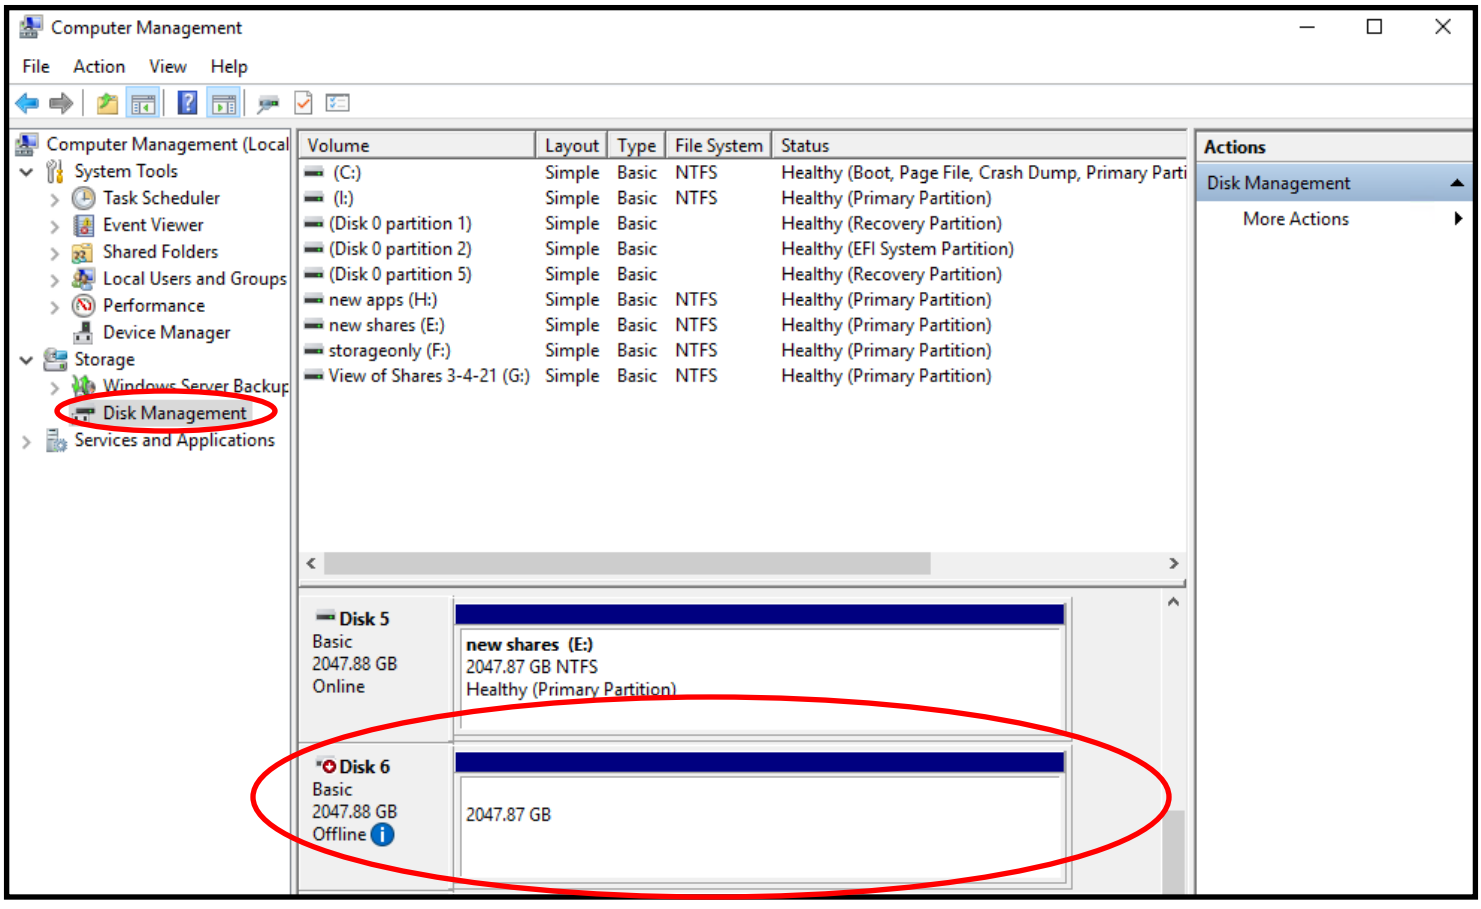

Select the server to map the Volume and confirm

Map Snapshot to Server

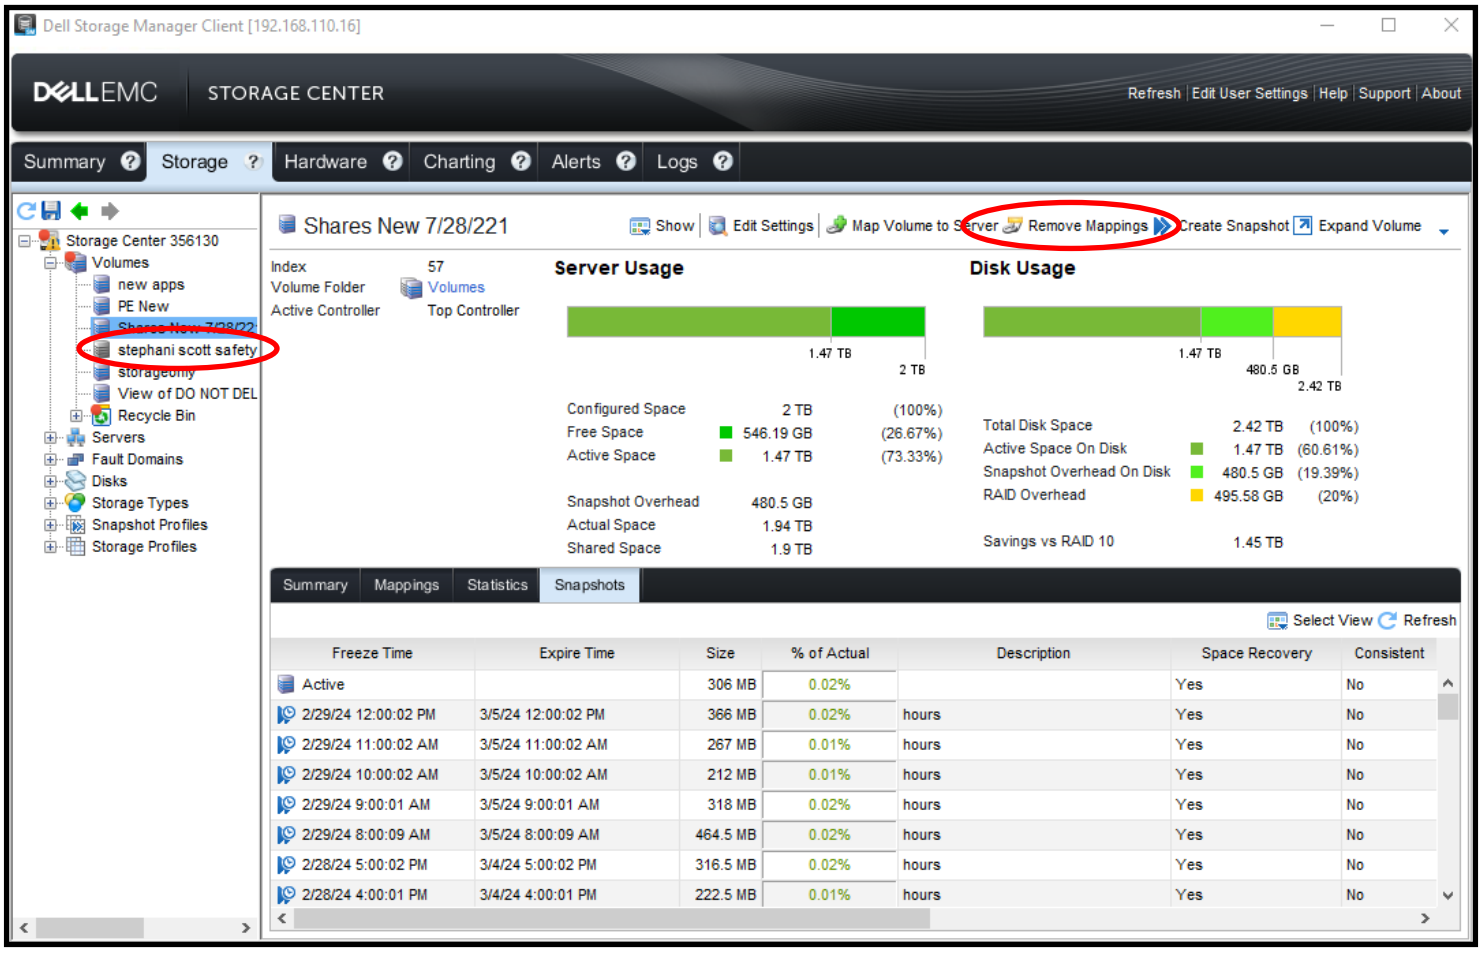

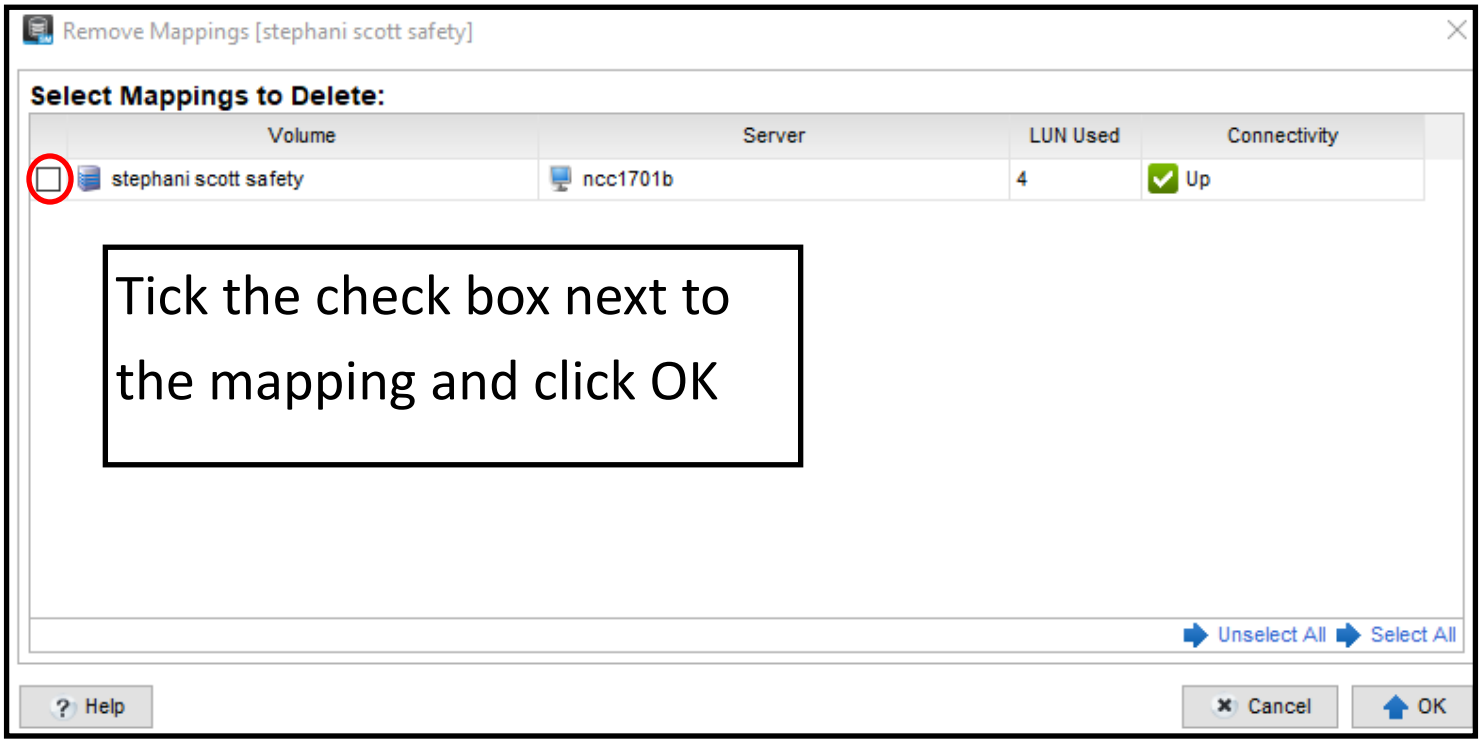

Open Computer Management -> Disk Management on the mapped server. Right click the Offline disk and bring it online

Remove Mapping when Finished

Select the mapped Volume and click Remove Mappings

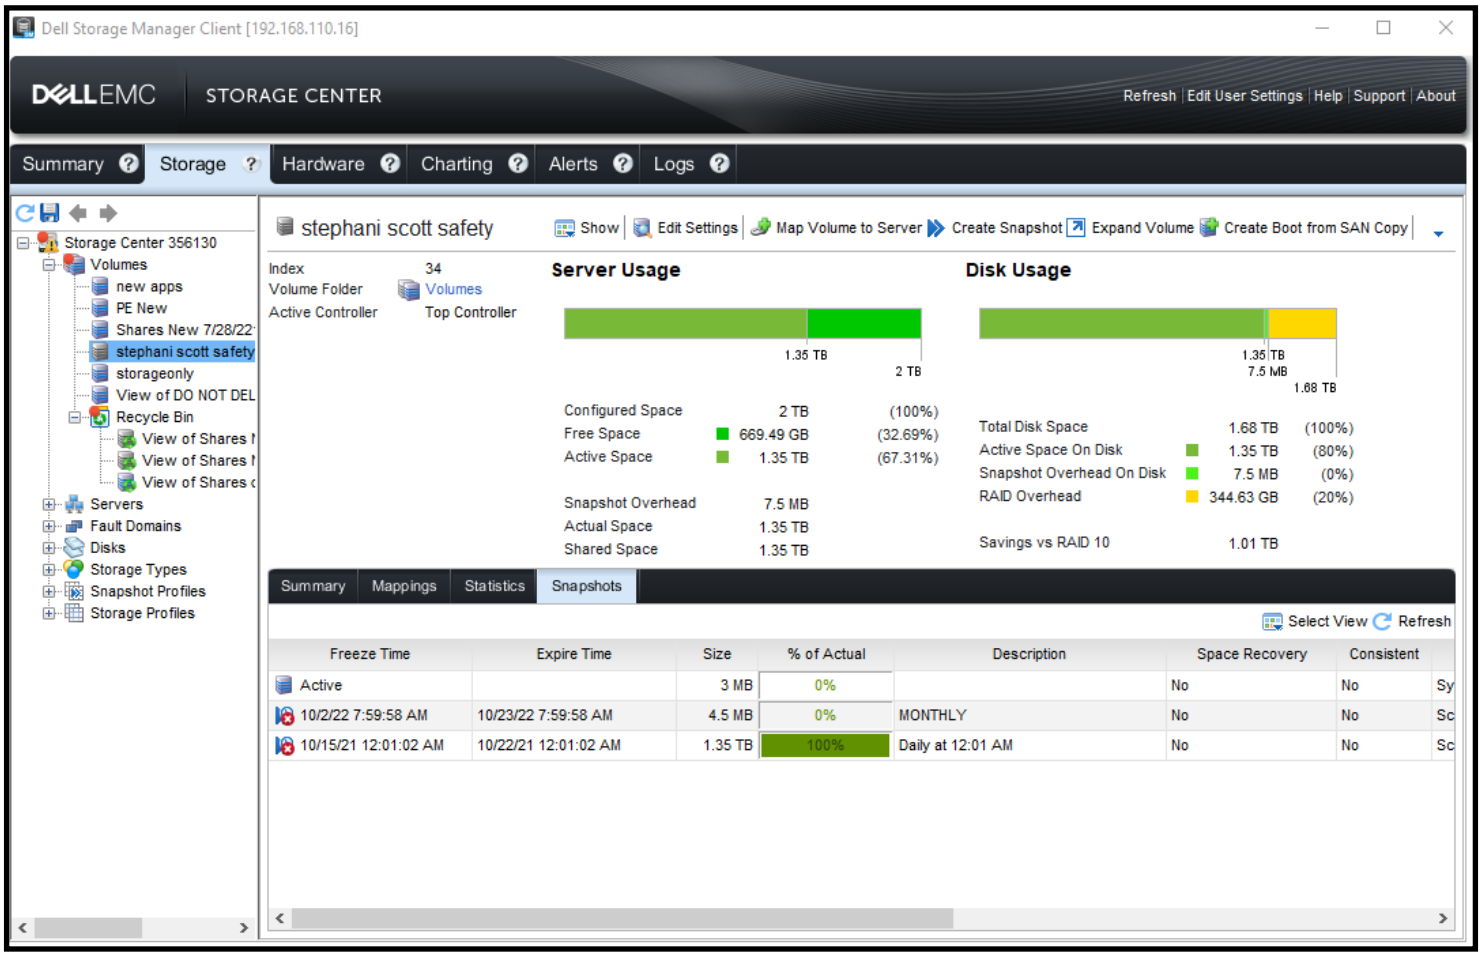

Remove Volume when Finished

Right click the Volume if it is no longer needed and delete it

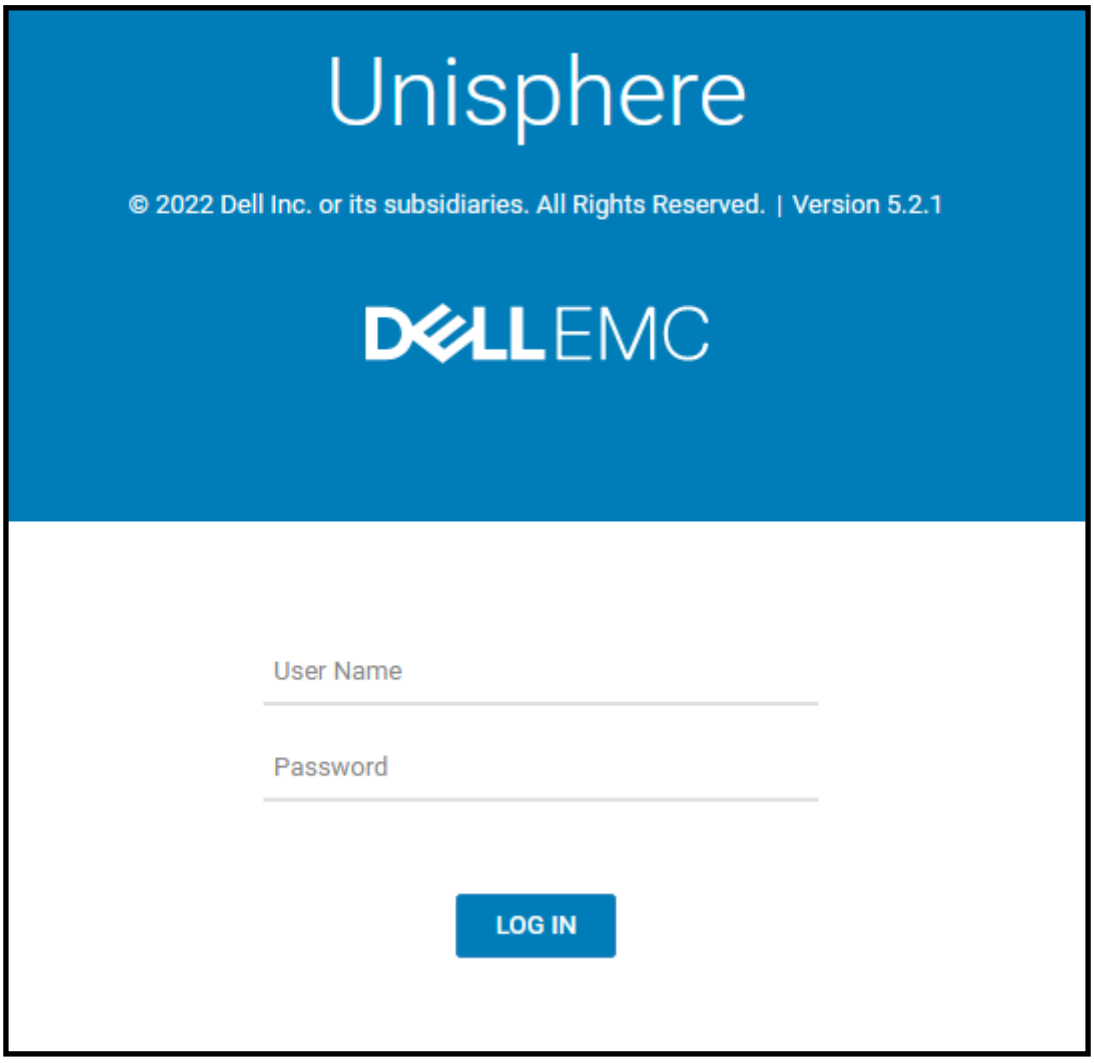

Open the Recycle Bin and remove it to permanently delete

Log in to Hopkinsville SAN

Use a web browser to Navigate to the SAN's IP address

Find the login info in the credential sheet

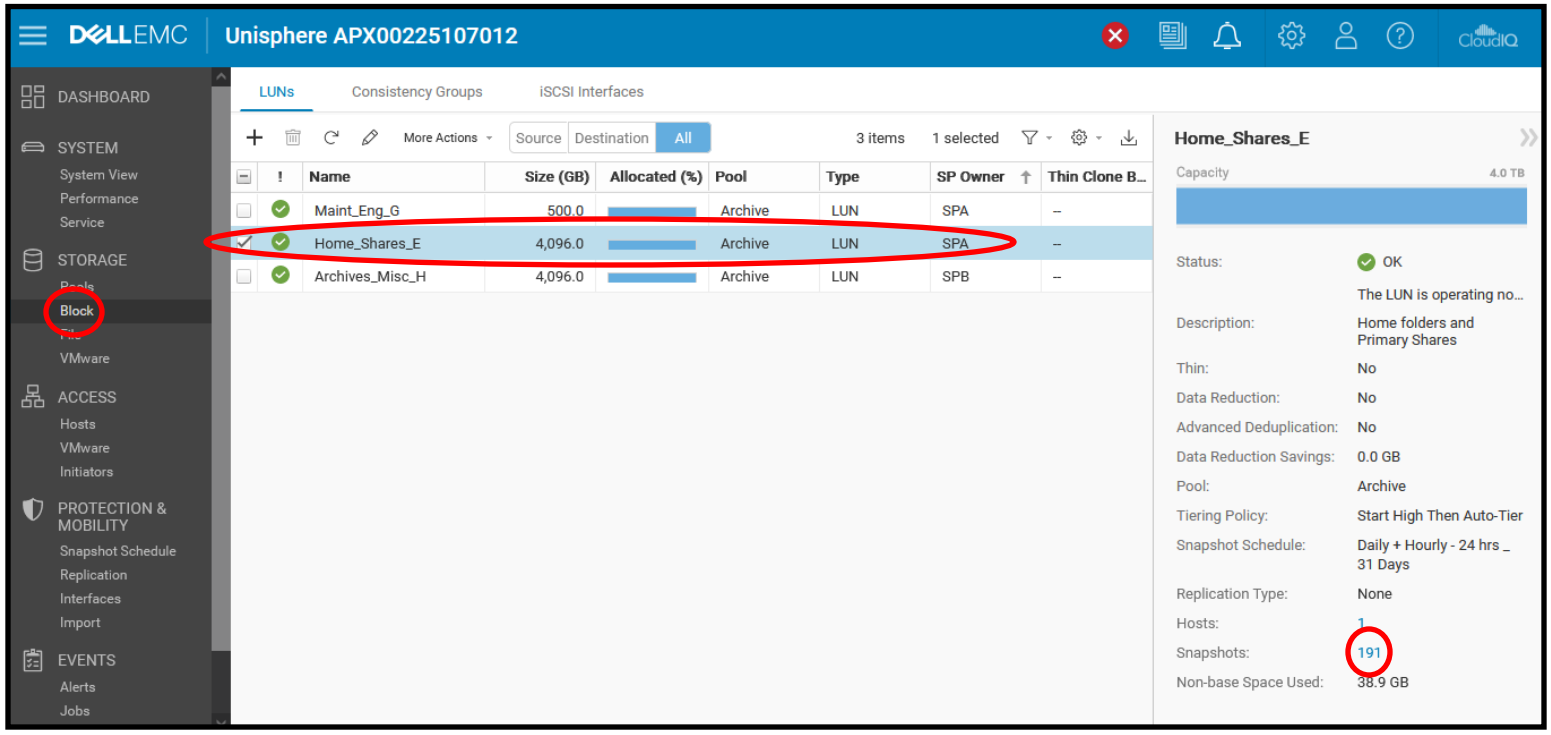

Select a Snapshot

Navigate to Storage -> Block

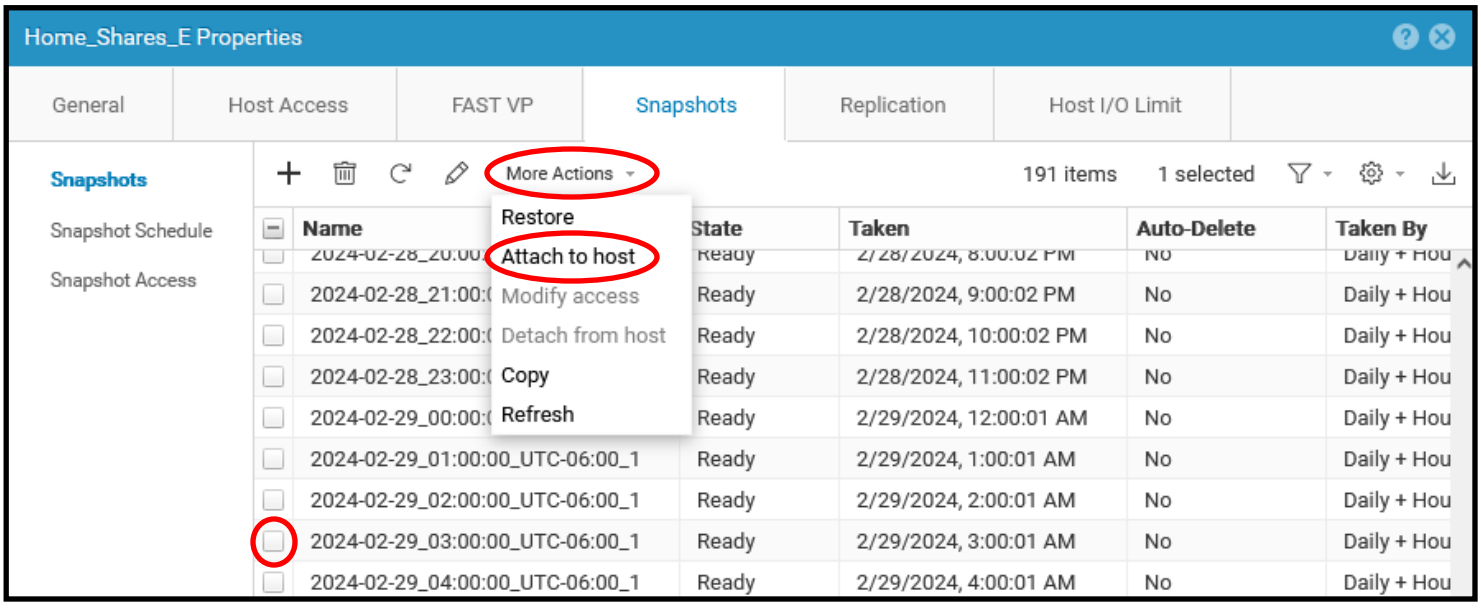

Select a LUN

Click Snapshots

Select a Snapshot time

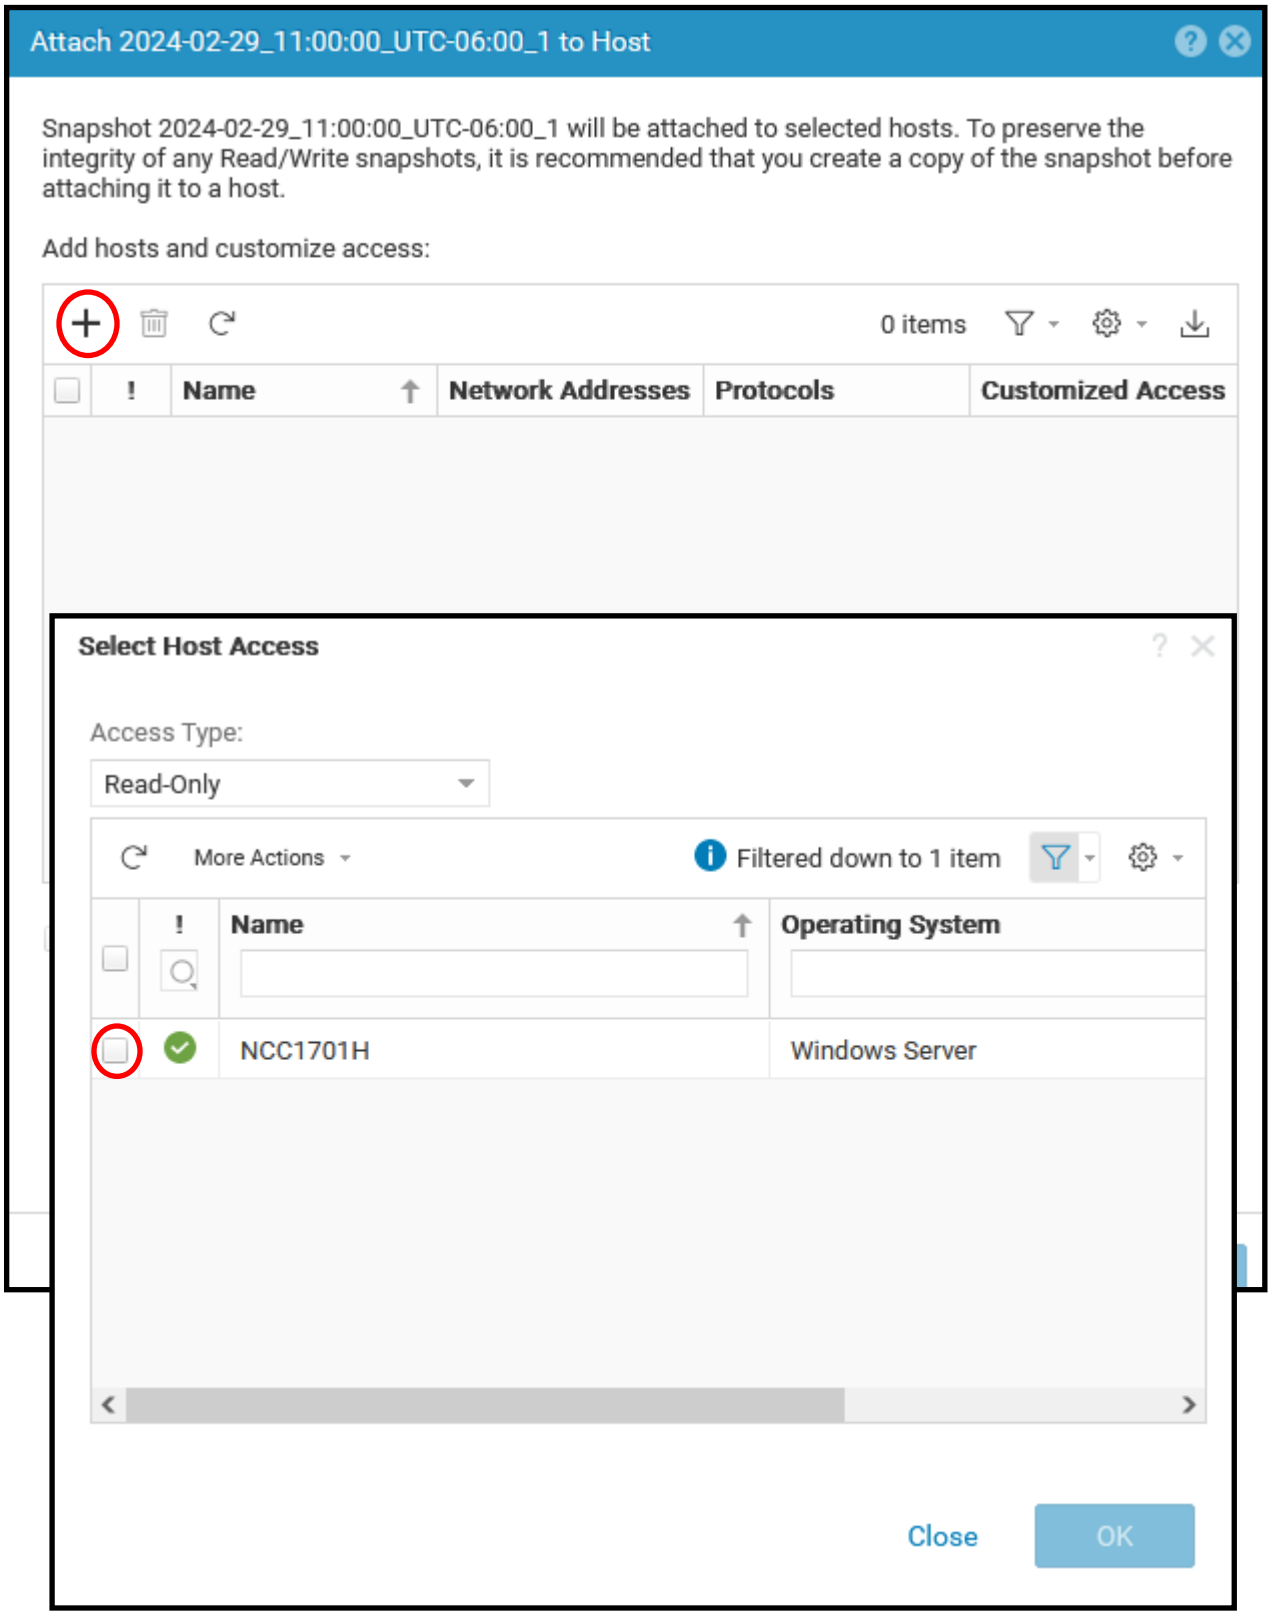

Click More Actions -> Attach to host

Attach Snapshot to host

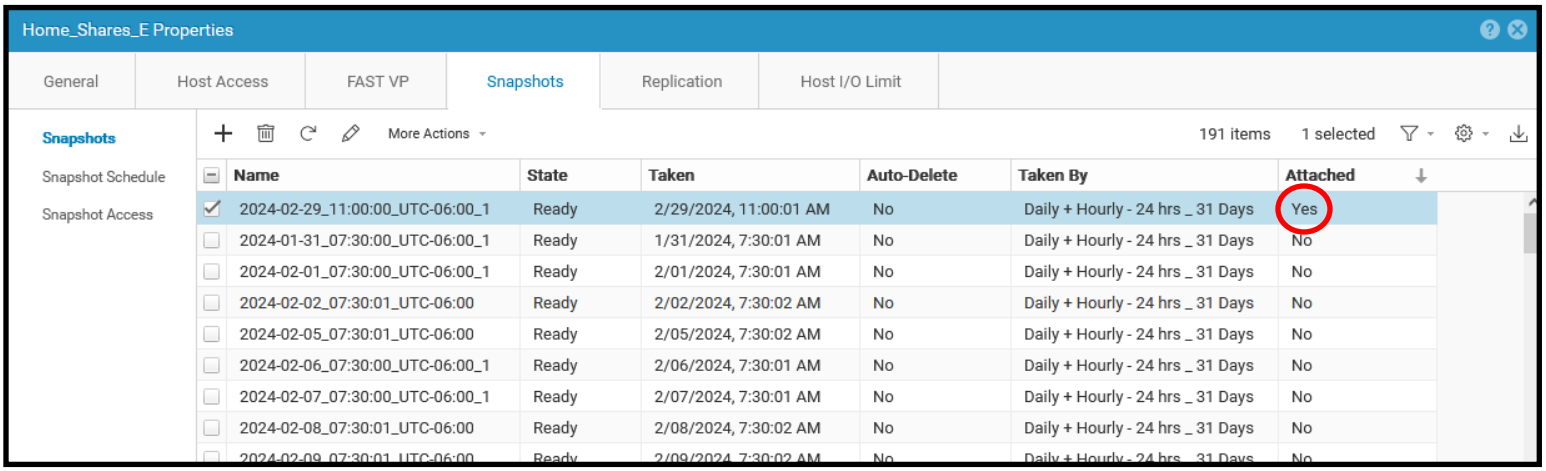

Click the plus +

Select a host to attach the snapshot

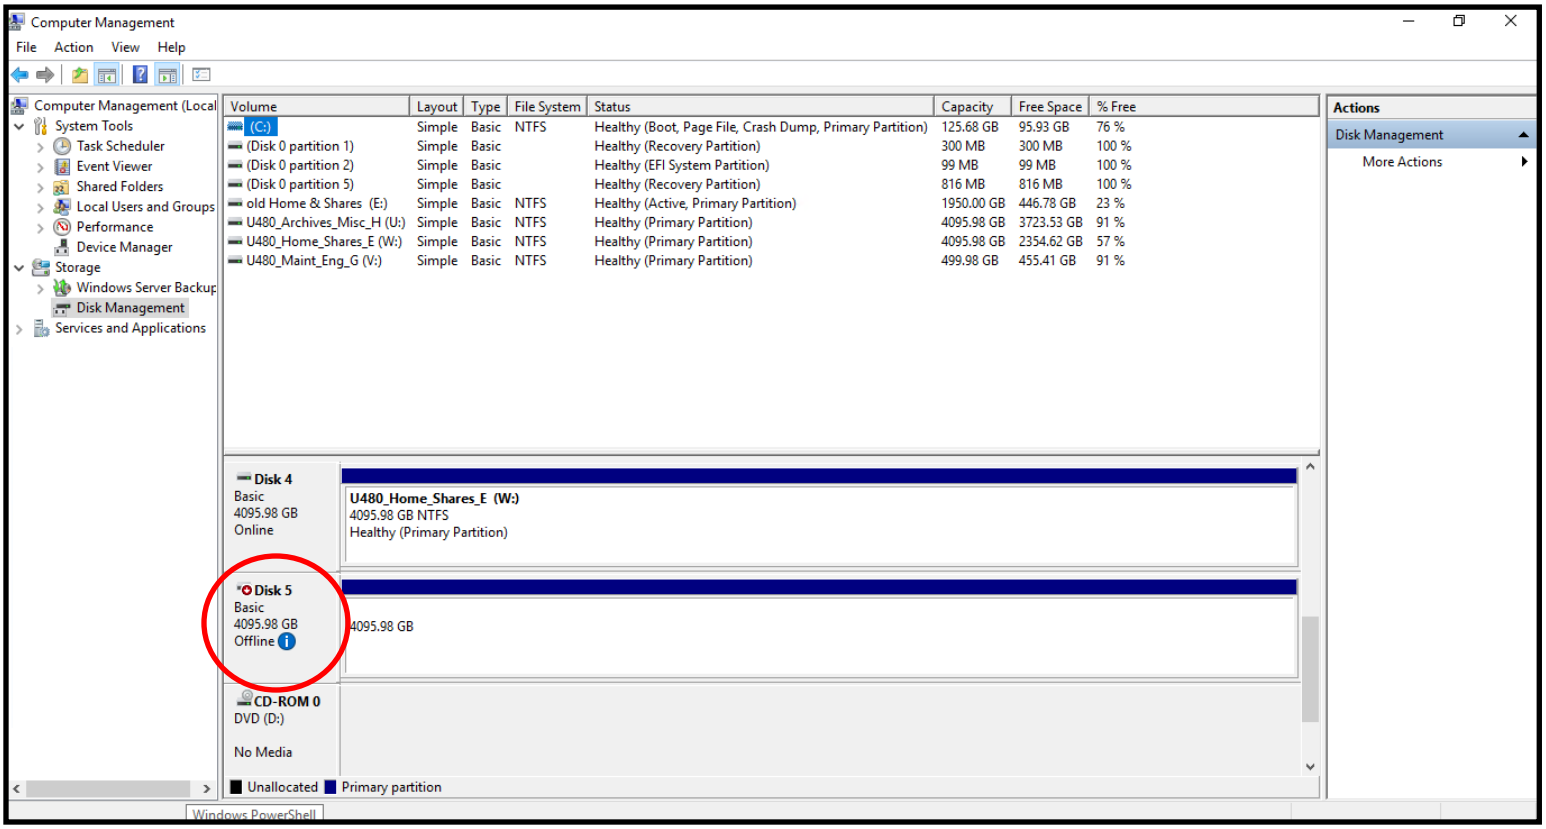

Attach Snapshot to host

The snapshot will show attached

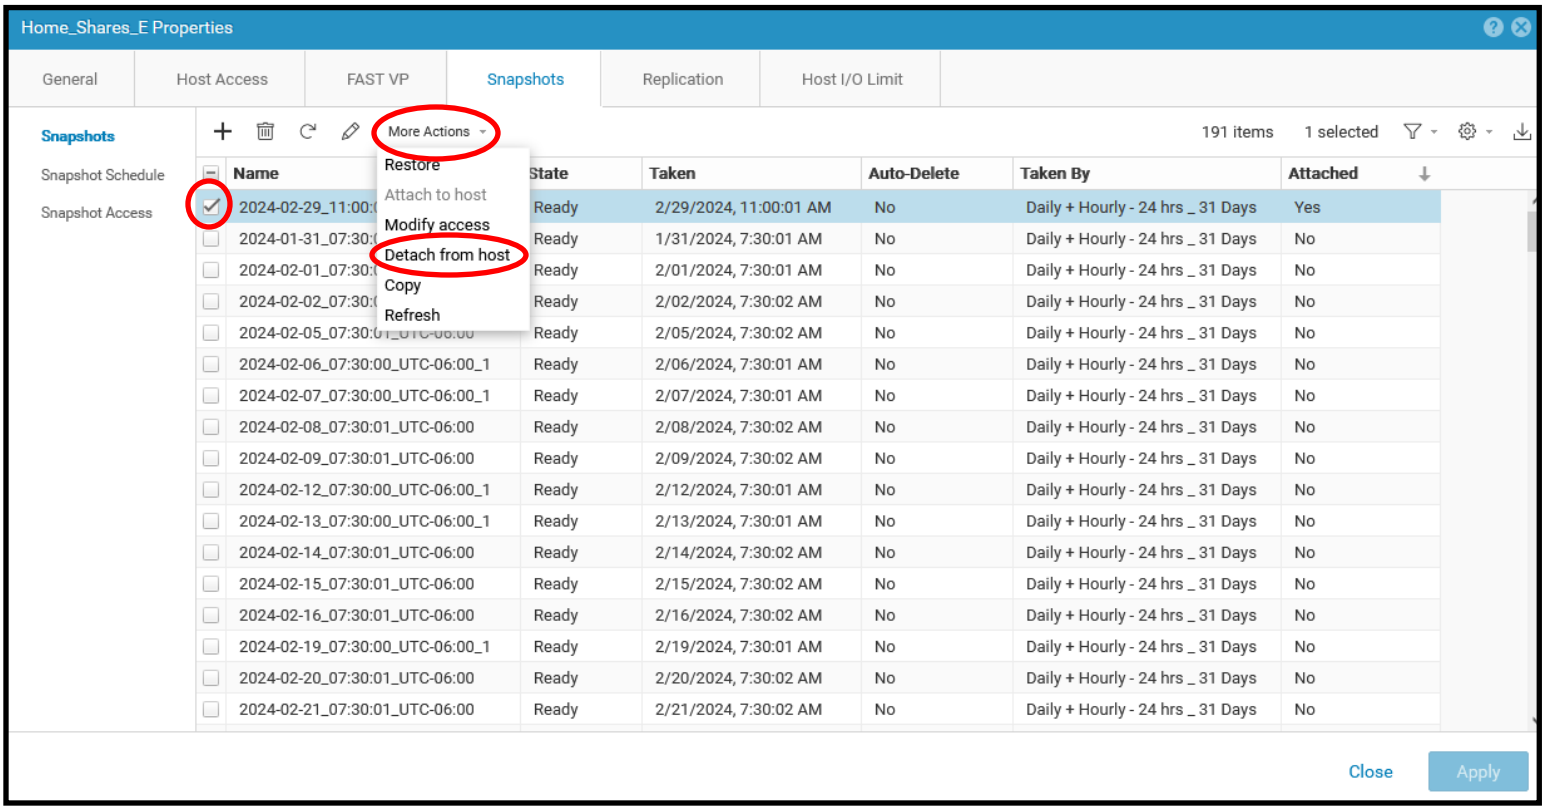

Log in to the snapshot server

Bring the attached snapshot online

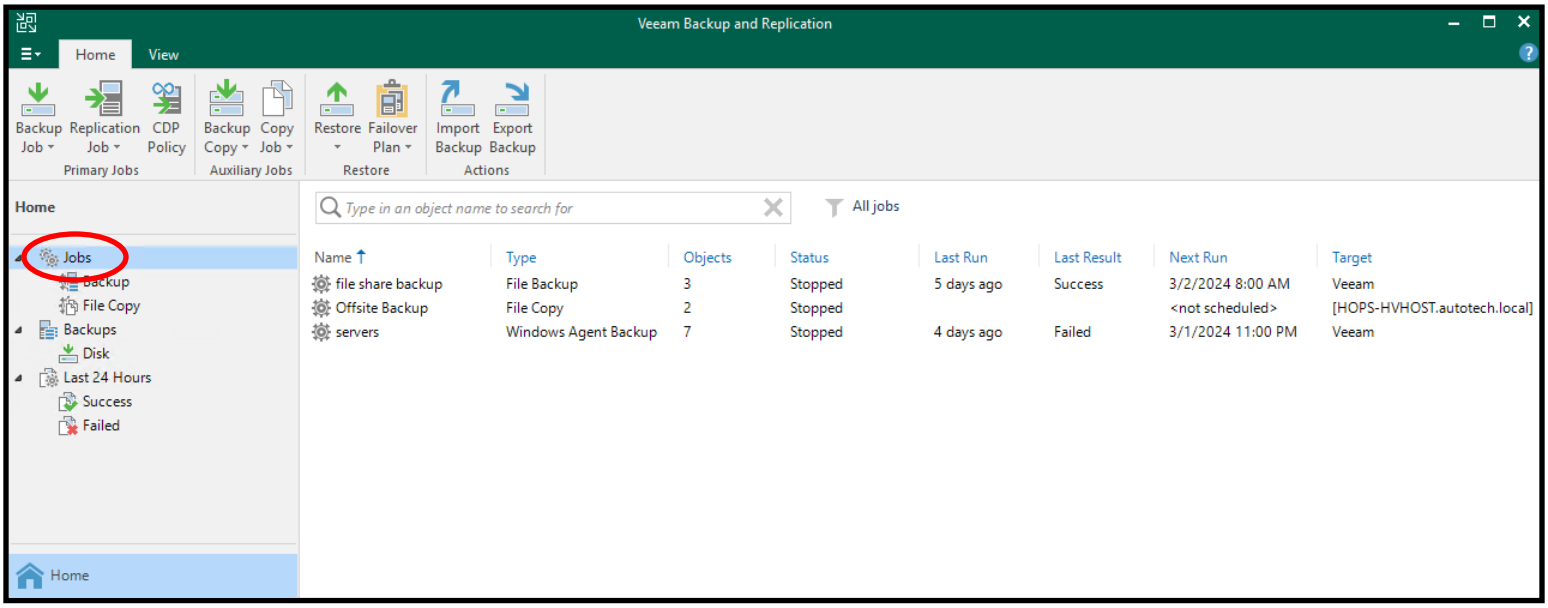

Detach Snapshot from host

Once finished with the snapshot, Select the mapped shapshot and click More Actions -> Detach from host

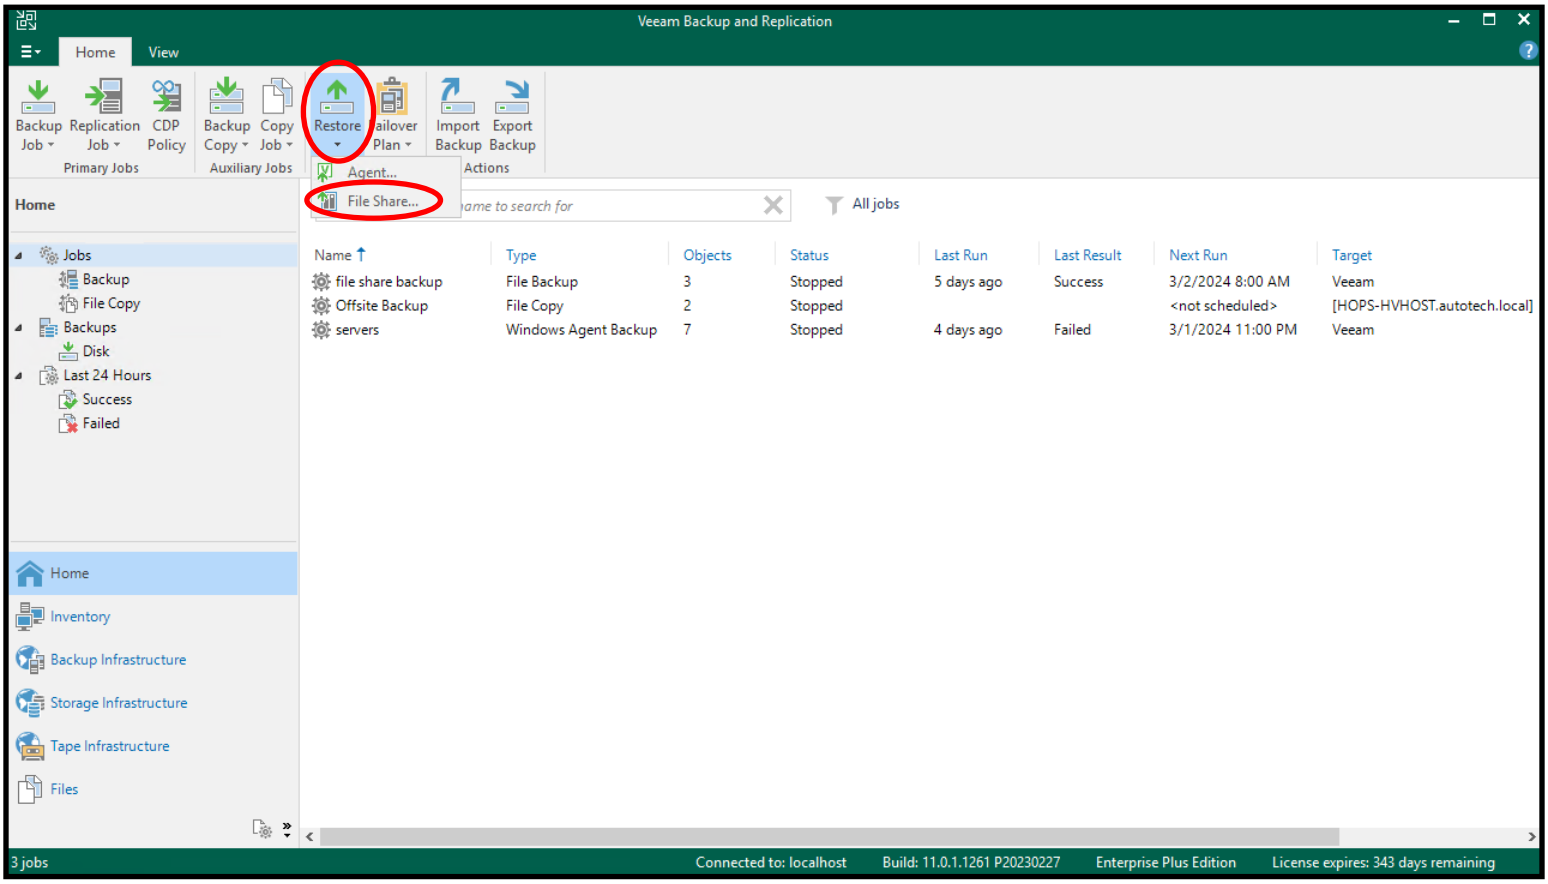

Restore from Veeam Backups

Navigate to the Jobs tab

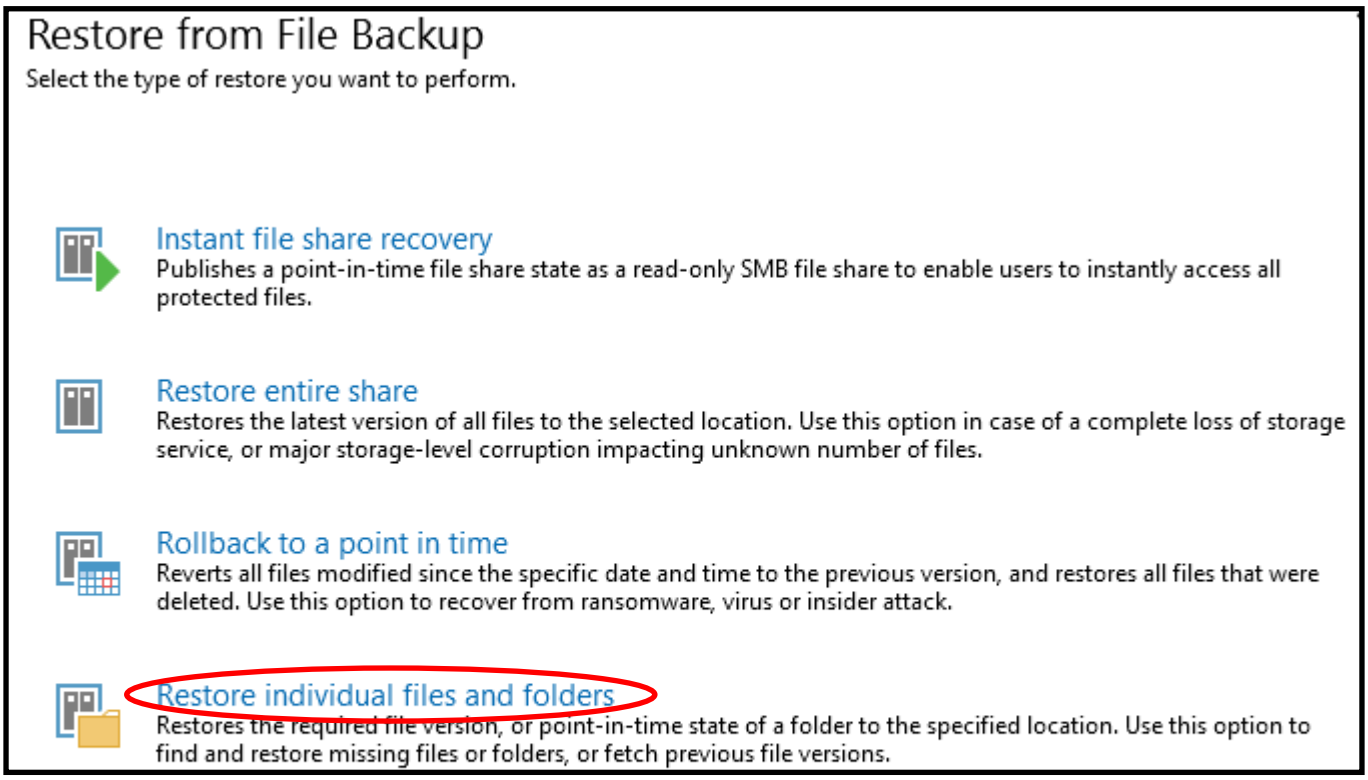

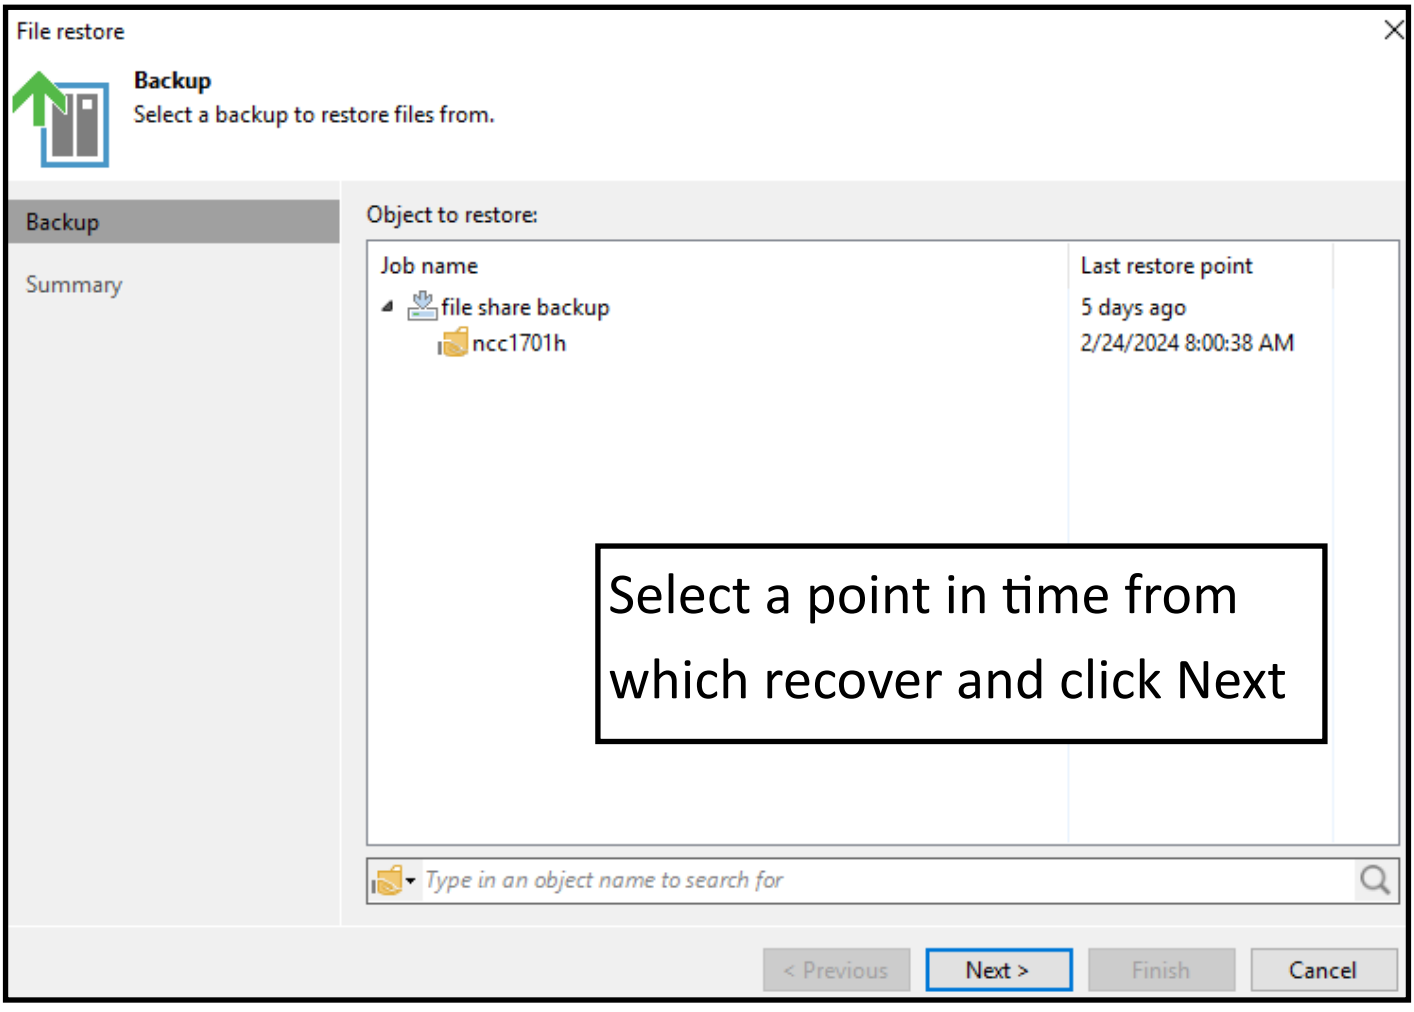

Click on Restore -> File Share

Select Restore type

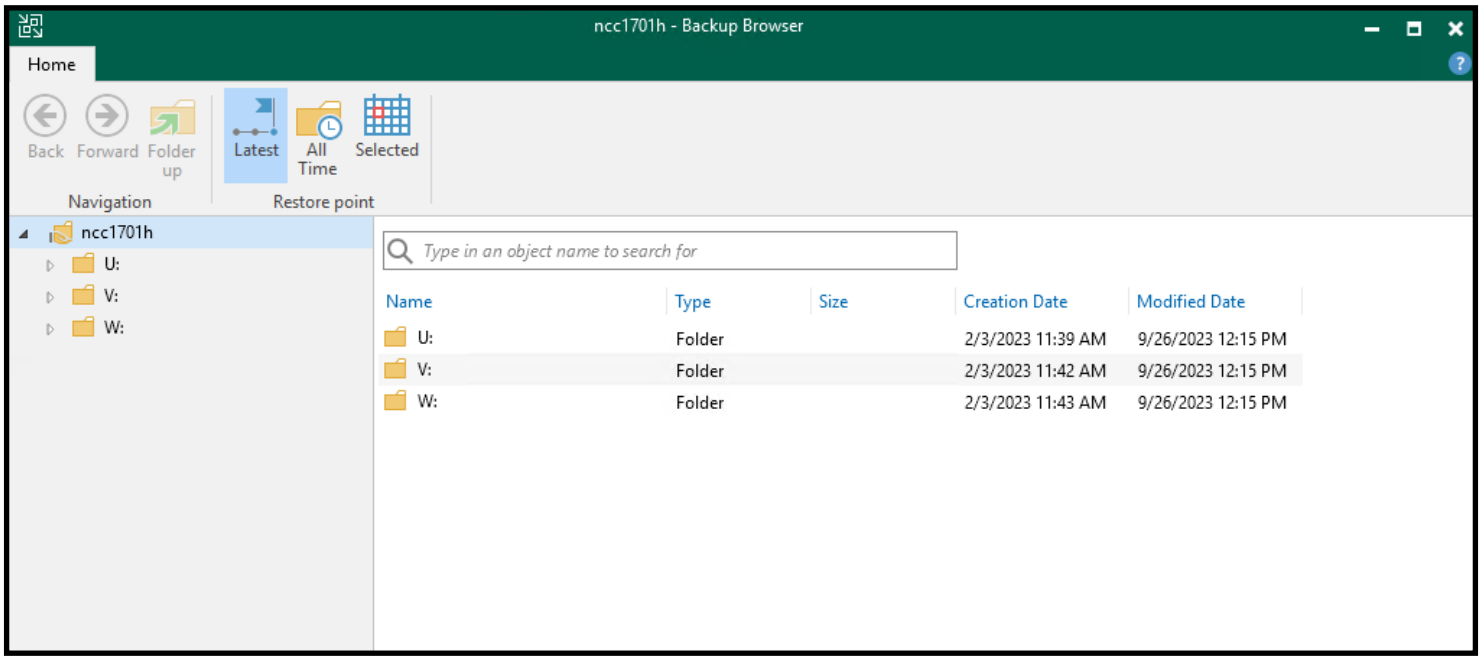

Here, we will example Restoring individual files and folders

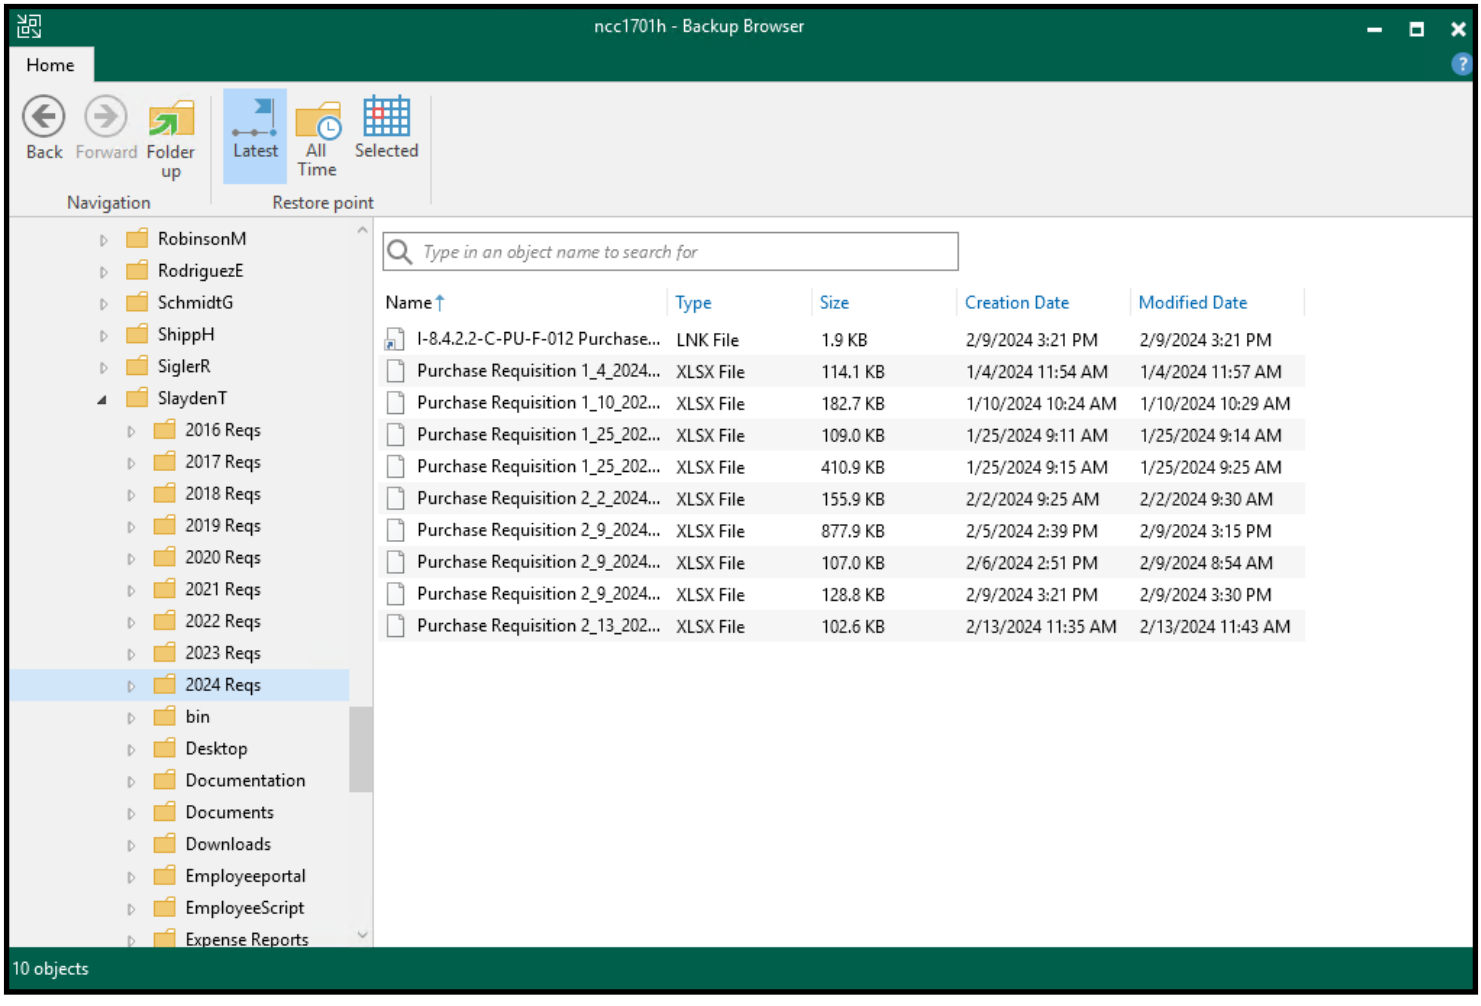

Select Files to Restore

Navigate through the folder stack and find the file to restore

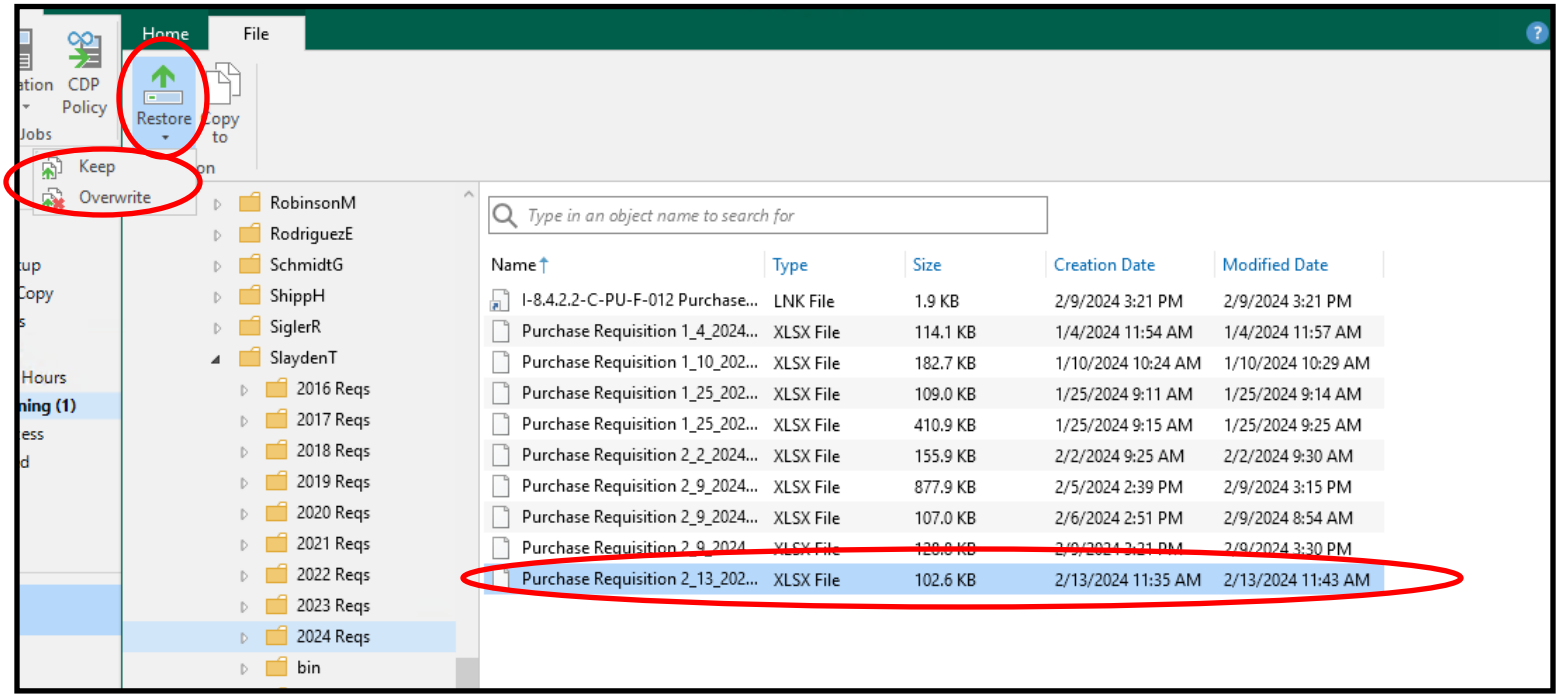

Select Files to Restore

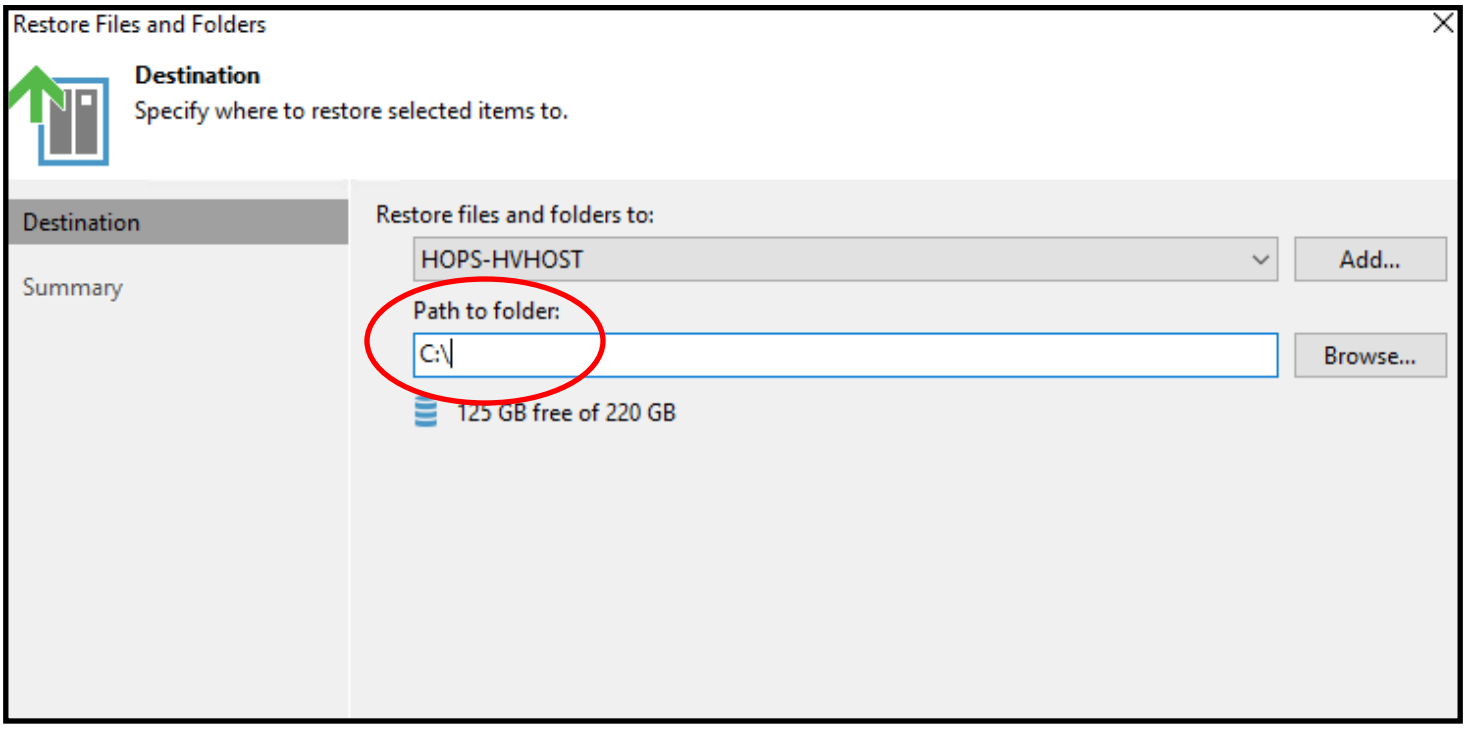

Select the file to restore

Click Restore -> Choose to Keep or Overwrite

Select a location to restore the file

Confirm through the screens

Find Restored File

The Restore will take some time to run

Find the file in your selected location once the Restore is finished

